Mobile (before)

The mobile version of the website features a dark header bar with white text for 'HOME', 'ABOUT', 'PRODUCTS', and 'SERVICE'. Below the header is a large, semi-transparent overlay containing the words 'HERITAGE' and 'HATS' in large, bold, white serif font. Underneath this, a smaller white text block reads: 'From vintage restoration to custom creations, we bring timeless style to your wardrobe with premium quality hats.' At the bottom of the overlay is a black rectangular button with the word 'SHOP' in white. The main content area below the overlay has a white background and features a large, bold title 'Our Story' in a dark serif font. Below this title is a photograph of a store interior filled with various hats displayed on shelves and hanging on the wall.

- “Contact” is partly cut off.
- The logo and text don’t stack they stay side by side.
- The font is too huge to read for mobile
- Fix: Add responsive flexbox behavior and media queries to stack header elements vertically and resize text.

Desktop (before)

- Heritage Hat overlapping the sections
- Font size is a little inconsistent
- Fix: Removed it by deleting it since I already have it in the hero section and made the font smaller in the style.css

Our Story

For over three generations, our family has been crafting exceptional hats with unparalleled attention to detail. What started as a small workshop in 1952 has grown into a trusted name in premium headwear. We believe every hat tells a story. Whether it's restoring a cherished vintage piece or creating a custom design from scratch, we honor the traditional craftsmanship while embracing modern innovation.
